Title: Dalhousie-New Mills Pastoral Charge records

Dates: 2010-2023

Extent: 2.9 metres of textual records, 1 photograph, and 7 microfilms

Administrative History: A pastoral charge consists of one or more communities of faith (known as preaching points prior to 2019) under the spiritual leadership of a minister. The pastoral charge title usually reflects the breadth of the geographic area encompassing the charge.

Dalhousie-New Mills Pastoral Charge consists of the communities of faith of St. John's United Church (Dalhousie) and Chaleur United Church (Nash Creek) which are both located in Restigouche County, New Brunswick.

On January 1, 2010, New Mills Pastoral Charge amalgamated with Dalhousie Pastoral Charge to form Dalhousie-New Mills Pastoral Charge with the preaching points of St. John's United Church (Dalhousie) and Chaleur United Church (Nash Creek). After the amalgamation, it was decided that the congregation of Chaleur United Church, comprised of the remaining members of the New Mills Pastoral Charge, would use the church building in Nash Creek for their worship services.

Effective January 1, 2019, The United Church of Canada underwent some structural changes including the elimination of all Presbyteries. At this time, Dalhousie-New Mills Pastoral Charge became part of the Fundy St. Lawrence Dawning Waters Regional Council.

Title: New Mills Presbyterian Pastoral Charge records

Dates: 1858-1925

Extent: 53 cm of textual records and 4 microfilms

Administrative History: Most of the early settlers in the New Mills area were from Scotland and belonged to the Church of Scotland. However, the first minister sent to the area was the Rev. James Waddell, a Scottish Secession Minister who was inducted into the New Mills and Bathurst Charge in 1832. It was during Waddell's ministry that the first Presbyterian Church in New Mills was built. Support for the secession cause was not strong enough in New Mills and Bathurst to support a minister permanently and Mr. Waddell left in 1834. It would be thirteen years before another permanent minister was procured.

In 1847, the Rev. Angus McMaster, another Secessionist (or Free Church minister), accepted the call extended to him by New Mills and began his thirty year minister there. His congregation was very scattered and included Point La Nim and Escuminac. Each Sunday he preached in both English and Gaelic.

In 1864, the congregations of Charlo and Jacquet River were organized. The first church at Nash Creek was built in the early 1860s. This building burnt in 1876 and a new church was built in 1877. The church was first known as St. Thomas Presbyterian Church but the name was changed to Bethel Presbyterian Church sometime between 1895 and 1912.

When Rev. McMaster retired in 1877, the congregations were reunited under one minister. Point La Nim and Maple Green were put under the care of the minister at Dalhousie. A new church building, the present Zion Church, was built at New Mills in 1879-1880. In 1899, a new church was built in Charlo.

In 1925, the Presbyterian churches in New Mills, Jacquet River, and Charlo voted to become part of The United Church of Canada. Eighty-seven members left the three new United Churches to continue to worship as Presbyterians.

Title: Dalhousie Presbyterian Pastoral Charge records

Dates: 1889-1925

Extent: 17.5 cm of textual records

Administrative History: Rev. James Stevens arrived in Campbellton in 1831 and travelled to Dalhousie every third Sunday. A Presbyterian church was built in Dalhousie by 1836 and was one of the first churches built in the community. At this time, the Presbyterians in Dalhousie shared a minister with the Campbellton congregation and was comprised of New Mills, Balmoral, Mountain Brook, Dundee, Maple Green (now known as Dalhousie Junction), and Escuminac (Québec). Mount Maria joined the church in May 1850.

In 1855, the pastoral charge was split and Dalhousie became a separate congregation with Rev. Alexander Forbes serving as minister of the new pastoral charge. By early 1877, it was agreed that a new church be built. These plans were delayed, however, by a fire which destroyed the manse in 1877. The new church building was dedicated on December 3, 1882. On July 26, 1902, the church was destroyed by fire. The congregation met in the Masonic Hall until the new church was constructed in that same year. St. John's Presbyterian Church became St. John's United Church upon the formation of The United Church of Canada in 1925.

Scope and Content: Sous-fonds consists of baptism/marriage/burial records, membership rolls, minutes, unpublished histories, and newspaper clippings from St. John's Presbyterian Church. Sous-fonds is composed of the following series:

- Membership Records
- Records of Congregation

- Records of Board of Trustees
- Cemetery Records
- Records of Adult Groups
- Church Histories

Title: Archibald Settlement Methodist records

Dates: [1905-1912]

Extent: 1 cm of textual records

Administrative History: It is likely that the Methodist congregation in Archibald Settlement was associated with the Campbellton (formerly Dalhousie) Methodist circuit. In the 1830s, the Bathurst Methodist Circuit extended to Dalhousie and Campbellton but Dalhousie formed its own circuit when a church was built there in 1851. Campbellton later became the centre of Methodism in the area.
