

Atlantic School of Theology, Senate

It has been my honour to serve the Regional Council as Representative to the Senate of the Atlantic School of Theology for the past year. I have attended three meetings in-person. It continues to be encouraging to see how this institution, which played a significant role in preparing me for ministry, continues to look forward with hope in so many ways.

AST through its President, Faculty, Students and Committees, including the Senate, are working collaboratively with other institutions and other communities of faith in the development of programs and courses that seek to respond to the evolving context of faith and ministry. Some of the topics of the one meeting I attended include: naming the recipient of the honorary doctorate from AST and Friend of AST, academic accommodation, course and degree plans and the recent recognition of tenure to professors.

I look forward to continuing to represent the region at future meetings of the Senate during my term. The Senate next meets on April 24th 2024.

I look forward to gathering with others at the upcoming regional meeting. If you have a question or concern do contact me by phone or email and I will respond as soon as I am able.

Faithfully,

Lloyd
