

Table Church: Worship in the beauty of smallness

Are you part of a pastoral charge on which leadership for each point on the charge is hard to find? Are you a leader imagining ways of helping a faith community practice ways of worship that will shape our future communal faith life? Are you hosting a mid-week gathering for a quiet worship and discussion?

You can read more about the vision behind these gatherings at the United Church's Round Table Blog. You can view a sample here.

Table Church is primarily meant for in person gatherings but the last Wednesday of each month Rural Routes (RRTH) also gathers a group online held by this simple, inviting shape of worship and conversation. Beyond the gifts of the moment, it's an opportunity to practice this way of worship before sharing it with your community.

We begin at 7 pm (Atlantic time) and meet for about an hour using the content provided in the second of the Table Church packages, Places. The series is available to purchase online but it is not necessary to buy the package to participate in the gatherings. They are free. If you'd like to join us, please email hemofthelight@gmail.com. Our winter-spring session begins January 28th and we'll meet once a month through May.
